Dear Dr. Ananth:

I am writing to congratulate you on being selected for the 2017 American Journal of Obstetrics & Gynecology Research Excellence award for your paper entitled "Obesity and the risk of stillbirth: a population-based cohort study".

This award is presented by the Editors of AJOG to the authors of the work presented at the annual meeting of the SMFM, and subsequently published in the American Journal of Obstetrics & Gynecology, to work that has received the top number of citations among papers published in AJOG in subsequent years. This award is based on the assessment of publication using Scopus, and the computations are done by the Editorial Managers of AJOG. We aim to recognize the impact of research published in AJOG using bibliometric criteria.

The editors of AJOG appreciate very much your selecting our journal as a venue for publication of your work.

With warm personal regards,
